A Combined "Bear" Movement on the Stock Exchange.

WALL STREET,
MONDAY, May 27—6 P. M. }
On Change to-day the principal feature was the 25c. for low middlings. Flour was heavy and lower, and wheat was inclined to sympathize with it, but remained moderately steady.

The cotton failures rumored last week were an exaggeration, the trouble being confined to one firm, who expect to be affoat in a few days.

In Wall street and vicinity an active weakness in the stock market was attended by

A BETTER DEMAND FOR MONEY, with, in the interval between two and three o'clock a little running to make up balances. The activit was far from being anticipated early in the day when the renewals were generally on the form scale of 6 per cent for loans on stocks, and 5 a 6 pe cent on governments, with an occasional stock loar at 5 per cent. After two o'clock there was a sharp demand at 6 per cent, and a fair amount of mone was loaned at 7 per cent. The activity had this limit, however. Borrowers wanted the money a sper cent, and were quite unwilling to pay more after the steady facilities which they enjoyed previously. The supply at 7 per cent betrayed the abundance of funds still accessible by the broker had they been unable to adjust their bank account

Discounts were steady and quoted 7 a 8 per cer for prime double names of short dates. Foreign exchange was firmer, without much doing and toward the close one leading firm advanced the rate for sixty day sterling to 109%. The market is quotable at 109% a 109% for prime sixty day, an 110% for sight bills. THE TREATY BATIFICATION IN ENGLAND.

The adoption of the resolution ratifying the Sup plementary Treaty has produced a marked effect upon the London market so far as American securities are concerned. The advance in our bonds to-day has been ½ a ½ per cent—the '67's rising from 93% to 94 and closing buoyant at the latter price, which, if our memory serves us aright, is the highest point ever attained in the foreign market by our five-twenties. Eries wavered at first, from local and inside reasons doubtless, but railled with the general market for American investments. GOLD FIRM-118% A 113%.

As the impatient crowd burst into the Gold Room at the prescribed opening hour an early pressure to sell was perceptible as a consequence of Saturday night's doings in the Senate, and the dealings up to oon were alternately at the two prices-113% and noon were alternately at the two process.

113%. The foreign bankers were the principal sellers, but disposed of only small amounts, comparatively speaking, and found ready takers. The gold they offered was legitimately theirs to the exlent that it represented the proceeds of bond sales on the other side to catch the difference between the New York and London markets, and was limited in amount for the reason that they soon found it impossible to get any round amount of bonds on this side at profitable figures. In other words, the gold market refased to become the vehicle of expressing the effect abroad upon our national credit of the adoption of the Supplemental Treaty, and remained firm, advancing eventually to 113%, when later in the day the domestic quotations of five-twenties moved up to the parallel of the foreign market. The parties controlling the gold premium seem satisfied to let circumstances, like the treaty ratification, increase the market during the day is shown in the table :-10 A. M. 113% 2 P. In the gold loan market the rates ranged from 3 to 5 per cent for carrying. The operations of the Gold Exchange Bank were as follows:-

engagements for Wednesday amount already to $1,259,000. The Treasury paid out $447,000 in redemption of called bonds and $318,000 for interest.

GOVERNENTS STRONG.

The government list was buoyant and strong throughout, each session of the board evoking a further advance in quotations, the 67's touching 117%. STOCKS WEAK AND LOWER. The very earliest impressions in the Stock Ex-change were of a favorable character as regards the expected influence of the restoration of good feel-ing between England and America by the ratification of the Supplemental Treaty, and the first half hour witnessed a nervous covering of short sales by those who believed they had placed themselves in a wrong attitude with reference to the market. The firmness thus imparted was prief-lived and did not outlast the morning board, the first call revealing a weakness and inaugurating a general decline, which brought to many a mind the oft-remembered experience stock speculation on a nominal theory being apt, tike the best laid plans of mice and men, to "gang alke the best laid plans of mice and men, to "gang a-gley." The depression seemed, however, more the result of the direct application of bearish effort than a natural movement. In fact, the "bears" did assail it with all their might just at the point when it stood hesitating after the first impulse given it by those who had been so eager to cover short sales in the early forenced. An erst "bear." of considerby those who had been so eager to cover short sales in the early forenoon. An erst "bear," of considerable fame, led the assault with a raid upon Pacific Mail, which he sold to the extent of ten or fifteen thousand shares, breaking the price from 77% to 72%, to the general consternation of the crowd of small "bulls," whom he further terrified by serving on the Pacific Mail Company notice of his intention to meve for an injunction restraining the officers from lending the money in the treasury upon other than United States stocks, &c., all of which farce was enacted last winter in the earlier bistory of the Pacific Mail speculation. The propressional operators and slique dealers are very burned. The transfer books of Boston, Hartford and Erie havin age been reopened, the sluice gates stock has a and the sudden inpouring of Boston the retofore unmarketable in New York dropped price from 9% to 7%. Boston shares had to be ascharged of registry in Boston before being capable of registry here. Hence the persistent retention of the books in a closed condition kept out the Boston certificates from this market. The heaviest dealings were distributed between Pacific Mail and Erie, which latter went off to 67%. A susnicion of the real extent of the speculative sales indulged in by the "bears" and the exceedingly buoyant temper of the London market, which had gone just as was anticipated it would after the ratification of the treaty, started a smart reaction after three o'clock, Pacific Mail recovering about two per cent and others pretty nearly all they lost in the interval since morning; but the effort at improvement was followed by dulness, although a fair degree of steadiness was to be remarked in the eventual closing of the market. The Southern State bonds were quiet and steady, with the dealings rather more widely distributed.
